Art Unit: 1762

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 5/1/2006 has been entered.

2. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Mary Breiner on 6/26/2006.

In claims 22 & 26, on lines 15 & 23, respectively, insert --polymerized-- before "monomer" and before "the prepolymer".

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: applicants amendments of the 4/4/2006 have positively claimed very particular effects from the strain induced by shrinking during the claimed polymerization process such that it differentiates over the previously applied references. Update and interference searches did not find any significantly more relevant references, although 2006/0043980 A1 to Verstegen et al. & 2005/018951681 to Wellinghoff et al., which are not prior art, are of interest to the state of the art.

Art Unit: 1762

The above amendment corrects an inadvertent error that was introduced into the claims that in a previous amendment, and is noted to have support in original claim 2, where the glass transition temperature being referred to is that of the polymerized material, as is logical.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
